Third Sunday of Easter

Acts 3:13-15, 17-19; Ps 4:2, 4, 7-8, 9;
1 Jn 2:1-5a; Lk 24:35-48

Peter proclaims the wonders of the Lord. The suffering Messiah is raised from the dead and has been glorified. This Jesus is our intercessor, and our offering for sin, our peace.

A Note from our Director of Music

While we know the Easter Season lasts fifty days, it is often overlooked that the Easter Day celebration in the Church lasts for eight days; this is known of as the octave of Easter. The Sunday within this octave, the second Sunday of Easter, was proclaimed to be Divine Mercy Sunday by Pope John Paul II in 2000. The chaplet of Divine Mercy, which begins on Good Friday, draws attention to how through the saving acts of Jesus' death and resurrection, God showed His mercy for His people. Our previous music director at Our Lady of Mount Carmel, Mark Izzo, wrote the Canticle of Divine Mercy from the text of the chaplet, which is being used during the offertory procession this weekend.

To show cohesion between this and last Sunday, the instrumental pieces at this weekend's Masses bring back many melodies from Easter weekend. The prelude, with the melody of the chorale "Christ Lag in Todesbanden" is also part of the text of the Easter Sunday sequence, Victimae Paschali Laudes – Christians Praise the Paschal Victim. Last weekend, we opened our Mass with the alleluias of the beloved Easter hymn, "Jesus Christ is Risen Today." This weekend, to close our Easter octave, we again sing this hymn. The postlude, Charles Villiers Stanford's At Easter-Tide presents fragments of the alleluia in the hymn at the beginning of the piece, passing from the bass voice at the opening to the soprano voice. The middle section begins softly, but rises, symbolic of the resurrection, culminating with the full statement of the alleluia heard in the bass. Then as the overlying chords continue to build to the climax, a brief pause comes before the finale where the entire alleluia is heard in the soprano voice to end the piece.

May the full joy of Easter continue in all of us, not just for the Sunday of Easter and this octave, but the remainder of these entire fifty days.

Parents of Youth in K-12th Grade

We had a very busy year in our CCD / Youth Ministry program this past year. Our 2019 Confirmands have been working hard on being involved with parish activities as well as keeping up with their own personal activities. Thank you parents for making it a priority.

To all the catechists and those who stepped in to help, a ‘thank you’ as you have spent many hours preparing and instructing the children. A special thank you to Scott Cross who found by sitting in the hallway working on school work during CCD he was also considered the hall monitor.

Easter Egg Hunt

Even though it was on the cool side most of the snow had melted which meant the children were able to find all 300 eggs that were hidden.

Thanks to the ‘stuffers’ and Harry the rabbit said he will be back next year with more surprises.
