

In Honor of Our Mothers

OUR LADY OF MOUNT CARMEL BASILICA

Our Lady of Mt. Carmel - St. Anthony of Padua Parish
343 Via Mt. Carmel • Youngstown, Ohio 44505

God took the fragrance of a flower...
The majesty of a tree...
The gentleness of
morning dew...
The calm of a quiet sea...
The beauty
of the twilight hour...
The soul
of a starry night...
The laughter of a
rippling brook...
The grace of a bird
in flight...
Then God fashioned
from these things
A creation like no other,
And when his masterpiece was through
He called it simply - Mother.

Stewardship Thoughts:

*"This is my commandment: love one another as I love you. No one has greater love than this, to lay down one's life for one's friends".
John 15:12-13*

Do you love Jesus? Do you consider Him your friend? Jesus says that if we love Him we would be willing to offer whatever we have to Him, not because we want praise and glory, but simply because we love Him. Does your giving seem mechanical out of obligation or do you share freely out of love?

Intercession for Vocations:

That men and women accept Jesus' ultimate call to "love one another" by embracing vocations to the priesthood or religious life, We pray to the Lord. Lord hear our prayer.

Craig's Corner
A note from our Music Director

This weekend we come to our final Sunday before the celebration of the Ascension. Ironically, the Gospel we heard did not come chronologically just before the Ascension, but rather, it was one of the final addresses He made to the disciples before His passion and death. It is fitting that one of His last messages to the disciples is a message of love. We hear this theme of the commandment of love in both St. Paul's words in today's second reading as well in the Gospel where Jesus commissions the disciples to carry on His message and example of true love: to lay down one's life for one's friends. The first reading speaks of how the Holy Spirit enabled the apostles to carry out this mission after Jesus' ascension, and we know that later most of the apostles suffered martyrdom because of the faith.

Our call of Christian discipleship, as Jesus commanded the apostles, is to love one another. Love builds God's kingdom on earth. We may not, as we sing at communion this weekend from the words of our Gospel, "lay down our lives" literally for our friends, but we can figuratively do this when we step in to help and be Christ-like to each other and serving our neighbors. As I keep mentioning over and over in these columns, our texts we read at Mass (and this weekend's offertory and communion hymns sing direct quotes from the day's readings) aren't just prayers and hymns: they are the Christian message and prompts demanding us how to live our Christian life. The Mass is our most important prayer and our nourishment to build up the Church and the kingdom on earth. As a philosophy and theology friend of mine stated to me, "how do we know God made the world good? Look around at all the kittens and puppies. God wants us to be happy!" God IS love. But because of sin, we have fallen from grace and suffering and injustices have entered the world. Christ summed up to his apostles before his death, resurrection, and ascension exactly what to do to build the kingdom after His ascension: to love one another. This is the command He, to this day today, still gives to me and you.

I leave you with this quote this week from Saint John Chrysostom, a bishop of the Church. Think of this often as we celebrate the Ascension and Pentecost in the next 2 weeks remembering that WE are the Church now. The Church began with Christ and while Christ is present in the sacraments and the Eucharist, and now WE are the Church! We are the living witnesses to Him at this moment.

And so I quote: "Water and blood (from Jesus' side) symbolized baptism and the holy Eucharist. From these two sacraments the Church is born: from baptism, the cleansing water that gives rebirth and renewal through the Holy Spirit, and from the holy Eucharist. Since the symbols of baptism and the Eucharist flowed from his side, and it was from his side that Christ fashioned the Church, as he had fashioned Eve from the side of Adam."

How are you called to share the love God has for you with others?

First Communion

Congratulations to

Elizabeth Anne Zorella and Addyson Marie Davis upon receiving their first Holy Communion.

May you continue to be nourished by the love and mercy of God through the Eucharist.

The Light of Faith and Family

Families gathered for Mass, shared breakfast, learned how the Church guides and nourishes us through Mass, the Sacraments and the Catechism. How are we to prune ourselves and nourish our vine "relationship with Christ"? One simple example: Reconciliation helps prune away our sins. Then we ended our time by singing Happy Birthday and eating cupcakes for Monsignor's Birthday!

Servanthood is the mark of true Christian living. Jesus emphasized this during the Last Supper, saying that he came not to be served, but to serve, and that likewise we should serve one another. In his parables, he often referred to believers as "servants" of the Kingdom. But in John 15:9-17, Jesus says that he wants us to be his friends, not his slaves. Is he contradicting himself?

Not at all! Friends serve because they care. Slaves serve because of duty and the fear of punishment.

Jesus said, "If you keep my commandments, you will remain in my love." Do we hear this as a friend or as a slave?

Slaves are afraid of what will happen if they fail to keep God's commandments; they are self-protective. Friends are eager to find out what God commands, because they view the commandments from the perspective of love, as opportunities to serve; they are other-oriented.

Jesus said, "This is my commandment: Love one another the way I love you." It's the supreme commandment; call it the Commandment of Friendship. He says, "You know how I love you, my friends: I openly share with you everything that the Father tells me." His friends realize that what he shares (through scripture and through the Church) reveals our opportunities to love.

Every commandment is rooted in love. Every Church teaching is based on scriptures that help us know when and how to love.

When we fail to obey, do we lose God's love?

Never! Do we lose our place in his love? Yes. By living outside of his commandments, we feel unloved even while being loved.

This is slavery. We're enslaved by fear or by false beliefs or by our wounds that have caused us to think that we're not loved enough. God's commandments then feel confining, and if we try to escape, we commit rebellion. Those who don't rebel accept their slavery and obey dutifully in the hope of winning God's love.

Friends, on the other hand, know that God always loves them, and in this love, they are free to serve one another joyfully.

Reflect & Discuss:

1. Are you obeying God like a slave or his best friend?
2. Do you eagerly jump into doing the will of God or do you complain about it? Do you ever want to escape from God's will?
3. What will you do to become more aware of his friendship?
4. What raises our relationships with God from slavery to friendship? Describe differences between obeying out of duty and obeying out of love.
